REMEMBERING 2004

Looking back on FHSC's 2004 year some events really jump out as outstanding, i.e. the Easter cruise to Lopez, the Crab Feed cruise to Blakely Island, The RHUMB Regatta, the Auction at Krystal Acres, and our 25th Silver Anniversary Celebration marking a major club milestone.

None of this, or the many more additional activities we all enjoyed so much would have been possible without a great group to keep it going, so to every member, I Salute and Thank you.

It was my privilege to serve as your Commodore, to be supported by a dedicated and hard working elected and appointed board that not only gave us an outstanding 25th year but also made me look good (as much as was humanly possible). To each and everyone-- THANK YOU!

As FHSC moves into 2005 with the very capable leadership of Mark Sternitzke, may every member renew their pledge to participate and take an active roll as "Participation is the key that unlocks the re-wards cabinet".

Rudolf Otto Grigoleit

Rudolf Otto Grigoleit, a designer, builder, sailor and survivor, died of cancer Jan. 22 at home surrounded by family.

He was 77.

Rudi was born in 1927 in Koenigsberg, Germany near the Baltic Sea, where he developed a love of the ocean at an early age. He excelled in school, but his student days were abruptly cut short when he Rudi Grigoleit was drafted into the German army in 1944 at age 17.

In 1945, the Russians captured Koenigsberg. Rudi was forced to march hundreds of miles to a prison camp nursing a serious shrapnel wound.

Although he survived the next five years, half those who entered camp with him were not so fortunate. His father, who was captured at the same time and had born the brunt of Rudi's workload while Rudi's wound healed, died shortly after release from prison.

Rudi credited his father's sacrifice for his own survival. Thanks to the Red Cross, Rudi's remaining family was located in Germany and he could be reunited with them.

After release in 1950, Rudi wasted no time finding a job. A true Renaissance man, he was ambitious and good at anything he set his mind to. He found he had a passion for building and studied at night to become a master builder and architect.

Meanwhile, he and his brother, Gert, also became flat-water kayak champions, winning the German National Championship in four-person kayaks in 1952, 1953 and 1954.

During this busy time, he married Ilse-Maria Heinzl, a woman who shared his love of adventure and the water. Ilse's four-woman kayak team also won the German National Championships in 1952, 1953 and 1954 for the Alster Canoe Club of Hamburg. Rudi was the coach of both winning teams.

In 1957, the adventurous couple and their 3-year-old son, Ulf, moved to Edmonton, Canada. Rudi had a job waiting, a place to stay and $13 in his pocket when they arrived. A few years later, while visiting his brother and sister in California, Rudi and Ilse were lured back to the ocean. They sold everything and moved closer to where they could smell the salt air again, first Sacramento then Los Gatos and San Jose.

Rudi soon built a 16-foot Pirate-design sailboat and sailing became his next great passion. Work as a building project manager brought his family, which had grown with the birth of daughters Monica and Susan, to Lake Tahoe where they purchased a Victory 21 which they raced competitively.

Rudi loved to encourage children in sports. In Tahoe, he bought Army surplus skis and narrowed them so that local teens could practice for the U.S. cross country ski team.

Still, the salt water continued to call Rudi and Ilse. Retiring at age 55, they purchased Donna Rose, a Peterson 44 sailboat, in Hawaii and sailed it back across the ocean with Ulf and Susan as crew. They had no prior ocean sailing experience.

From San Francisco, they sailed north to Friday Harbor and British Columbia, then down through the Panama Canal up the East Coast to the Bay of Fundy. Their return trip through the Caribbean landed them in Panama during the U.S.-led invasion.

After selling Donna Rose, they tried power boating for a time and just couldn't live without a sailboat so purchased their current boat, a Saturna 33, and named her Donna Rose.

Rudi and Ilse moved to San Juan Island from Alameda in 1995. For those privileged to know him, Rudi's willingness to help others with his ability to build was one of his greatest gifts.

Rudi built many elaborate sets for the San Juan Island Community Theatre and was a trustee of the Friday Harbor Sailing Club, where he was very active on the race committee.

Rudi and Ilse's warmth, hospitality and work ethic quickly attracted a large group of friends of all ages on the island. Whether racing sailboats, building houses or raising children, Rudi and Ilse were a winning team.

Rudi dealt with life's most difficult situations, including his own illness, with his characteristic sense of humor. Nothing was ever so bad that he couldn't make a joke of it. He was like he knew he was good at it or he knew how to get it done. His generosity was boundless. His friends need only look some where in their house or boat find some project he did for them. His work is everywhere.

To his colleagues, Rudi's reputation is flawless. To his family, unforgettable respect, love and humor are their memories. He never compromised his principles, never took on a project he didn't finish. Rudi had a love affair with the United States, was proud to be an American and very patriotic.

In addition to Ilse and his three children — Ulf, Monica and Susan, of Lake Tahoe — he is survived by his brother, Gert, and sister, Liselotte, of Sacramento; brother, Werner, of Hamburg, Germany; grandchildren Meaghan and Kathleen of Lake Tahoe; and his large adoptive family of friends on the island.

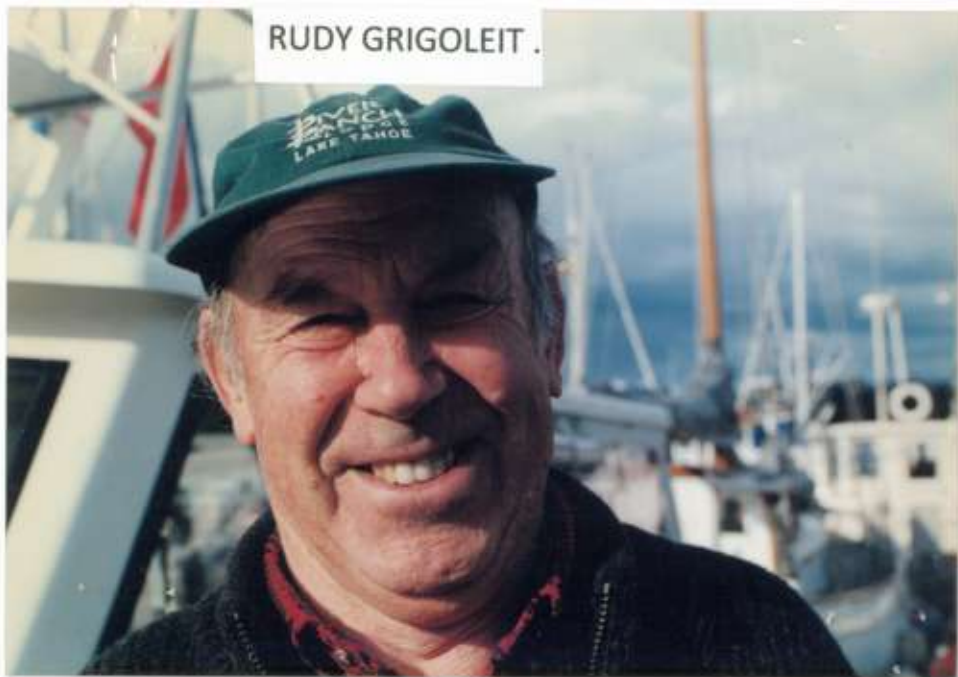

In lieu of flowers, memorial may be sent to: Rudi Grigoleit Remembrance Fund, Friday Harbor Sailing Club, P.O. Box 62 Friday Harbor, WA 98250.

Funds will be used for furthering the spirit of sailboat racing and fostering camaraderie in cruising programs.

The date for a celebration of his life will be announced at a later date.

FRIDAY HARBOR SAILORS COOK!

San Juan Islands, Washington

Friday Harbor Sailors Cook!

Friday Harbor Sailors Cook!

Well, I suppose the idea was hatched in 2005 when Linda George, Leslie Veirs and Lizz Divers-Smith were taking their customary walk and started talking about recipes. This led to, "Wouldn't it be fun to have a Friday Harbor Sailing Club Cookbook"? And, the rest, as they say, is history.

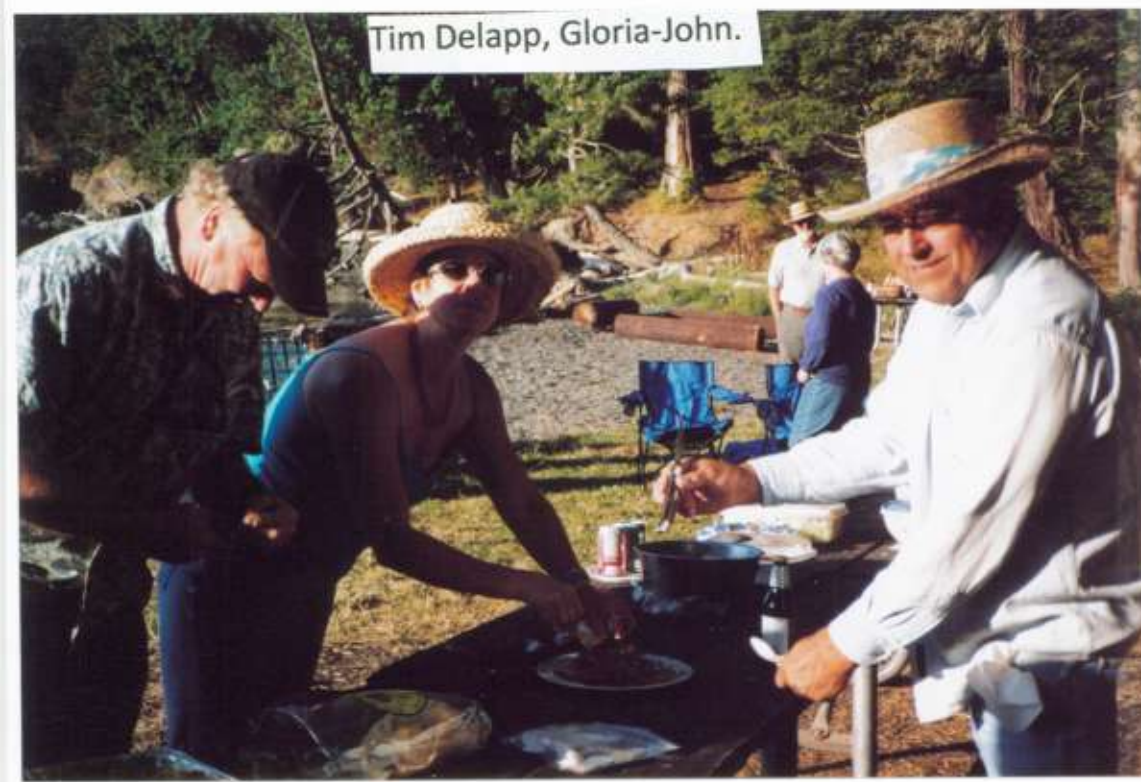

A committee was formed, including Kathy Chadwick, Susan Eberhard, Joyce Johnson, Donna Riley, Pat Megaw and Georgia Paden plus the three instigators (Linda, Leslie and Lizz). Pat stepped up to the plate as Editor (having worked for a printer for years) with Georgia as assistant. The task of soliciting recipes from the membership (and their friends) was undertaken. Recipes were typed, edited and proofed (and, in some cases, kitchen tested!). Mitzi Johnson (Mitzi, Ltd. Graphic Design) began soliciting printing quotes and she and Pat reported to Commodore Mark Sternitzke and the Board of Directors with their feasibility report.

From Blissful Beverages & Amazing Appetizers to Brilliant Breads, Candies & Tasty Treats, the collection of recipes grew and took shape (6 sections in all). Each separate card was typeset and proofed, then printed on the color stock of its designated section.

Mitzi set up the full-color cover photo shoot with Ann Sheridan (photographer) with John & Gloria Bentzen's assistance (props & food styling). The Friday Harbor Trading Company provided a ship's model and Mary Bacon sculpted a whimsical papier maché painted cake. The Port of Friday Harbor granted permission to use a great shot of Friday Harbor's Port, beneath a rainbow, for the back cover. The assembly-line at Pat Megaw's home, as the loose sheets were stuffed into the cover, then into a sticky flap acetate envelope, was hilarious!

With "Over 100 great galley-tested recipes!", it brought together not only inspirational ideas for meals, but fond memories of F.H.S.C. members, both current and former. Anyone who has relished the Bentzen Danish Frikadellers at a Sailing Club potluck has only to search the yellow section for the "no-longer-secret" family recipe! Missing the cookbook? Beg, borrow or check the Thrift Store for this limited edition collector's item!
